The College of Staten Island (CSI) of the City University of New York (CUNY) seeks a full-time, tenure-track faculty in early childhood special education. Responsibilities include: engaging in research and publication; overseeing student fieldwork experiences, teaching curriculum, pedagogy and field experience courses in the special education graduate programs; student advising; developing an early childhood special education program; developing courses; performing department and college services; and engaging in other professional and community activities and K-12 school partnerships.

The successful candidate will be committed to inclusion and excellence. The Search Committee is especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching and/or service to the diversity of the academic community.

QUALIFICATIONS

The Department of Educational Studies seeks candidates with Ph.D. or Ed.D. with a background in early childhood special education; those who are ABD are welcome to apply. The successful candidate will have expertise in theories and methods of teaching in the early childhood and special education fields and experience teaching children ranging from birth to grade 2 and/or children with disabilities.

Preference will be given to candidates with experience in urban and inclusive education, grant writing, and university teaching and supervision.

COMPENSATION

Salary commensurate with education and experience ($42,873 - $88,418).

CUNY's benefits contribute significantly to total compensation, supporting health and wellness, financial well-being, and professional development. We offer a range of health plans, competitive retirement/pension benefits and savings plans, tuition

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

The College of Staten Island (CSI) is a City University of New York (CUNY) senior College organized around two academic divisions and three schools, with over 14,000 students. CSI offers a broad range of academic programs in the liberal arts and sciences, and in several professional areas. The College awards associate's, bachelor's, master's and clinical doctoral degrees, and in collaboration with the CUNY Graduate Center, numerous Ph.D degrees. CSI's internationally recognized faculty passionately engage in scholarly and artistic activities, and together with a strong professional staff, lead students through transformational learning experiences both inside and outside of the classroom. The College is situated on a 204-acre site, has recently incorporated a residential component, and is currently engaging in capital expansion. It is a hub of intellectual and artistic activity and a community partner and source of economic impact and job creation for the greater Staten Island area.
waivers for CUNY graduate study and generous paid time off. Our faculty and staff also benefit from the extensive academic, arts, and health programs on our campuses and the opportunity to participate in a lively, diverse academic community in one of the greatest cities in the world.

HOW TO APPLY

To apply, please go to www.cuny.edu; select "Employment" - "Search Job Listings" - "More Options to Search for CUNY Jobs" - then enter the Job # 14124 in the "Job Opening ID" field. In order to be considered for this position, applicants must submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, mailing addresses, telephone numbers, and e-mail addresses of three to five professional references, photocopies of transcripts, and a statement of philosophy of teaching, scholarship and service.

If you have difficulty with uploading multiple documents to the web site please send them to fac recruite ducation@csi.cuny.edu.

CLOSING DATE

February 19, 2016

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.