Fall 2016/Spring 2017
12-14 credits

Istituto Venezia-The Venice Institute, is a small language center that has been offering language instruction for Italians and foreigners since 1933. Italian language courses are offered at the beginning, intermediate, and advanced levels. The Istituto Venezia is located in the heart of the university area of Venice, which has a high artistic value. The area is crowded with university students who gather in coffee shops and for live concerts, which are often held in this neighborhood.

Housing and Meals:

The Istituto Venezia arranges apartments for students, located within walking distance or a water bus ride from the institute. Apartments are modest and they all have similar facilities, but no two apartments are alike. Each apartment is furnished and equipped with towels and bed linen, basic pots and pans, and kitchen utensils. They are not provided with washing machines, telephones, or air conditioning. The housing coordinator at the Venice Institute assigns roommates based on the completed housing profile. Students are assigned to single bedrooms in the student apartments, which are shared with other students in the program or with local residents.

Academic Program:

The Istituto Venezia has been offering language instruction for Italians and foreigners since 1933. Program participants have an opportunity to study Italian with students from around the world. No previous knowledge of Italian is required. Italian language is offered at the beginning, intermediate and advanced levels. Students may choose from one of the following program options.

The super-intensive Language Program (Program I) is for students to enroll in an intensive semester of 12 credits of Italian language. Students are placed into the appropriate level of instruction for this program and will focus all academic coursework on Italian language acquisition.

The Venetian Civilization and Culture Program (Program II) allows students to take a six-credit Italian language course at the appropriate level. In addition, students will take two four-credit courses—a history course, "Venetian History, Politics, and Society from the 12th to the 20th Century," and an art history course, "Venetian Art and Society from the 12th to the 18th Century." The language of instruction in these two special program courses is English.
