Reflect on Areas for Growth

If you want to reflect further on your areas for growth, select two of the questions above that you ranked your lowest and write a few words about why you ranked them that way and what you think you can do to improve them. Try to be as specific as possible. To review what you wrote and to learn more about being "career ready", schedule an appointment at our Center or walk in! Being "career ready" can be a game changer for you in successfully getting an internship and finding real success in your career path. We are located in Building 1A, Room 105.
