

Required Verrazano Spring Schedule for Accounting and Business Majors

This is the required schedule for Verrazano second-semester freshmen who are pursuing a major in Accounting, Business—Finance, Business—Management, Business—Marketing, or Business—International Business.

The 4- or 5-digit section numbers for Verrazano Honors classes change each semester (and occasionally the times change). View the updated list of Verrazano sections at <https://www.csi.cuny.edu/academics-and-research/specialized-programs/honors-programs/verrazano-school/program-requirements/courses>.

You must take the following Verrazano courses:

- (1) Honors ENG 151 : College Writing (3 credits); M/W 10:10-12:05

We will sign you up for this.

- (2) Honors MTH 130: Precalculus – (3 credits); MTH 231/229: Calculus I (4 credits total); or MTH 232: Calculus II (3 credits) – all are on a M, W 12:20-2:15 schedule with MTH 229 running M,W 2:30-3:20.

Business and Accounting majors require a sequence of two math courses (see the Catalog for details). Take the next level of Verrazano Honors math if you have not yet completed the math sequence.

- (3) Honors MGT 110: Introduction to Management (3 credits); T 10:10-11:00,
Th 10:10-12:05

- (4) Honors ACC 218: Introduction to Accounting (4 credits); T/Th 8:00-9:55

Other recommended non-Verrazano courses (in order of priority):

ECO 111: Introduction to Microeconomics (3 credits) or

ECO 112: Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 credits)

MKT 111: Introduction to Marketing (3 credits)

Any course from the Required or Flexible Core in Pathways General Education

As a general note, you should plan to take Verrazano honors sections whenever possible.
